Report on Election Case No. 1 of 1922.

Khwaja Nazimuddin,

versus

R. J. S. M. Hossain Ali.

PRESENT :

D. C. Patterson, Esq., I.C.S.

Rai Purna Chandra Basu Bahadur

Rai Sharat Kishore Basu Bahadur.

1. We, the Commissioners appointed under the Bengal Electoral Rules to enquire into the petition presented by Mr. Khwaja Nazimuddin against the election of Maulvi R. J. S. M. Hossain Ali to the Bengal Legislative Council by the Bakarganj North Muhammadan constituency, beg to submit the following report for the orders of His Excellency the Governor.

2. The petitioner prays to have the election declared void on the following grounds:—

(1) That the name of the respondent was not registered on the electoral roll of the constituency in question, or of any other constituency in the Province; and

(2) That there were certain irregularities and illegalities in the polling.

3. The second ground was not pressed at the hearing, no issues were framed with regard to it, and no evidence was adduced. The application therefore fails so far as it proceeds on that ground.

4. As regards the first ground, the reply given by the respondent in his written statement is as follows:—

“The name of the respondent is registered as voter No. 33 on the electoral roll of the East Bengal Muhammadan constituency, Council of State, which is a constituency in the province of Bengal, and the respondent has got all the necessary qualifications.”

He also asserts in his written statement that the petitioner has no locus standi, that the petition is not in proper form, that it has not been signed and duly verified, and that it has not been presented to the proper authority.

5. The following issues were framed by us on reference to the pleadings:—

- (1) Has the petitioner any locus standi to present this petition?
- (2) Can the petition be entertained in its present form?
- (3) Was the petition presented to the proper authority? If not, can it be entertained?
- (4) Was the petition signed and duly verified by the petitioner? If not, can it be entertained?
- (5) Is the name of Maulvi R. J. S. M. Hossain Ali on the Electoral Roll of the Bakarganj North Muhammadan constituency, or of any other constituency in the province, as required by rule 6 of the Bengal Electoral Rules? If not, is he eligible for election as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council?
- (6) Should the election be declared void under rule 42 of the Bengal Electoral Rules?

6. As regards the first issue, the respondent's contention is that the petitioner was not duly nominated as a candidate, and that he has therefore no locus standi under rule 30 to present the petition. There is however no evidence to shew that the petitioner was not duly nominated, and apart from that, the term “candidate” includes a person who claims to have been nominated as a candidate, vide rule 28 (b).

There is no doubt that the petitioner claims to be a candidate, and he is therefore, under rule 30, entitled to present this petition.

7. As regards the second, third and fourth issues, it is to be observed that the petition consists of two parts. The first and main petition is addressed to His Excellency the Governor, and was presented to the Chief Secretary on the 13th February 1922—it appears to be in proper form except as regards the alleged irregularities and illegalities at the polling, details of which are lacking. The second petition is addressed to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal and was presented to that officer on the 14th February 1922—it was submitted in compliance with the directions of the Chief Secretary, and furnishes the details of the alleged irregularities and illegalities in the polling which were lacking in the first petition.

The first petition is duly verified, but the second petition does not bear any verification.

As the allegations regarding irregularities and illegalities in the polling have not been pressed, the fact that the second petition, which merely gives details of those allegations, has been addressed to the Chief Secretary and not to His Excellency the Governor, and that it has not been verified, is of no importance.

The first petition is in proper form and has been duly verified—it is addressed to His Excellency the Governor and was presented to the Chief Secretary who is the proper person to receive such petitions on behalf of His Excellency—there is therefore no reason why it should not be entertained.

As regards the signature on the petition, no evidence has been adduced to shew that it is not genuine, and on comparison with the petitioner's signatures on the vakalatnamas filed by him, we see no reason whatever to doubt its genuineness.

8. The fifth issue is the main issue in the case.

It is asserted in the petition that the respondent's name is not registered on the electoral roll of the constituency or of any other constituency in the province. All that the respondent says in reply to this in his written statement is that his name is registered on the electoral roll of the East Bengal Muhammadan constituency for the Council of State, and he goes on to say that this is a constituency in the province of Bengal and that he has got all the necessary qualifications, vide paragraph 6 of his written statement. From the language used in the pleadings it is clear that by the words "any other constituency in the province" petitioner meant "any other constituency for the election of members of the Bengal Legislative Council," and that the respondent also understood the words in question in the above sense.

It thus appears that the petitioner has in his petition made a definite allegation of fact, viz., that the respondent's name is not registered on the electoral roll of the constituency in question or of any other constituency in the province for the election of members of the Bengal Legislative Council, and it further appears that this allegation of fact has not been denied specifically or by necessary implication, and has not been stated to be not admitted, in the written statement filed by the opposite party.

This being so, under Order VIII, Rule 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the above allegation of fact made by the petitioner in his petition must be held to have been admitted by the respondent.

The learned vakil for the respondent has contended that the allegation in question was vaguely worded and that Order VIII, Rule 5 does not apply, but this line of defence appears to us to be an afterthought, and we cannot take it into consideration in determining whether the allegation is to be taken as having been admitted or denied.

9. In view of the above finding there is really no issue of fact involved in this issue, and the question of burden of proof does not strictly speaking arise.

If however the above implied admission be ignored, we are of opinion that the burden of proving that his name is registered on the electoral roll of any constituency for the election of members of the Bengal Legislative Council, rests on the respondent and not on the petitioner.

In the first place, we are of opinion that the petitioner's allegation on this point is not only negative in form but also in substance, and therefore under section 103 of the Indian Evidence Act, the burden of proof rests not on him but on the respondent.

In the second place, the respondent is in an infinitely better position than the petitioner to know and to prove whether his name is or is not registered as aforesaid. He knows, or ought to know, for what constituencies he is qualified and whether his name has been registered or not,—and if his name has been registered for any constituency, he can prove it by producing the electoral roll of that constituency,—whereas in order to prove the contrary, the petitioner would have to produce the electoral rolls of some ninety constituencies.

The fact,—if it be a fact,—of his name being registered as aforesaid, is therefore especially within his knowledge, and having regard to the principles underlying section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act, the burden of proving that fact rests on him.

Lastly, regard being had to the wording of rule 6(I)(a), the opposite party is in the position of a person claiming to come under an exception to a general rule, and for this reason too the burden of proof rests on him.

It is no doubt true that the Court might, and in most cases should, presume, under section 114 of the Indian Evidence Act, that a sitting member of the Legislative Council is properly qualified and has been duly elected, but for the reasons mentioned above we are of opinion that we would not be justified in making such a presumption in the present case.

We hold that the burden of proving that his name is registered on the electoral roll of a constituency for the election of members of the Bengal Legislative Council rests on the respondent. He has not made any attempt to discharge that onus, and we therefore find that his name has not been so registered.

10. As regards the second part of the fifth issue, it is asserted and proved by the respondent and not denied by the petitioner, that the respondent's name has been registered on the electoral roll of the East Bengal Muhammadan constituency for the Council of State, and the question for decision is whether that constituency is included in the term "any other constituency in the province," as used in rule 6(I)(a).

Now although the Bengal Electoral Rules were framed by the same authority as the Council of State Electoral Rules, and the Legislative Assembly Electoral Rules, each of these sets of rules is complete and self-contained, and we should therefore not look beyond the Bengal Electoral Rules in determining the meaning of the above expression. We should moreover look to the plain meaning of the words in question, and should not read into them any meaning which is not clearly expressed therein.

Part I of the rules is headed "Composition of Councils and Constituencies," and rule 3 thereunder lays down among other things that there shall be 113 elected members on the Legislative Council of Bengal, while rule 4 lays down that the elected members shall be elected by the constituencies specified in Schedule I.

Part II is headed "Qualifications of Elected Members," and rule 6 thereunder lays down among other things that no person shall be eligible for election as a member of the Council to represent a general constituency unless his name is registered on the electoral roll of the constituency or of any other constituency in the province. Reading the words "any other constituency in the province" in the light of the context as indicated above, we have no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that they mean "any other constituency in the province for the election of members of the Bengal Legislative Council," and that the expression "any other constituency" cannot possibly be intended to include constituencies for the election of members of the Council of State.

We therefore find that the fact that the respondent's name has been registered on the Electoral Roll of the East Bengal Muhammadan electorate of the Council of State does not render him eligible for election as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

The result is that we decide the fifth issue in favour of the petitioner, and find that the respondent's name has not been registered on the electoral roll of the constituency for which he has been elected, or of any other constituency in the province as required by rule 6, and that he is therefore not eligible for election as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

11. The first five issues having thus been decided in favour of the petitioner, it remains for us to consider whether the respondent's election should be set aside under rule 42. It has been contended by the learned vakil for the respondent that rule 42 does not cover a case of this sort, and that rule 43 limits our report to the points specified in rule 42. We have however no hesitation in coming to the decision that rule 42 does apply. The rules provide among other things that no one shall be elected as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council who is not eligible under the rules. The respondent is not eligible and yet he has been elected, so it is clear that the rules have not been complied with and that the result of the election has been materially affected by such non-compliance.

Rule 42 expressly lays down that under such circumstances the election shall be void, and there can therefore be no doubt as to our jurisdiction to submit a report to this effect.

12. We find that the respondent, the returned candidate, has not been duly elected, and that the election should be declared to be void.

We beg to add that we are unanimous as regards our decisions on all the issues and as regards our final finding, but there has been some difference of opinion on the question of burden of proof in connection with the fifth issue. Our report on this point is however expressed in terms of the views of the majority. On all other points we are, as has been stated, unanimous.

13. As regards costs, we see no reason to doubt that the respondent, relying on a wrong interpretation of rule 6, believed himself to be eligible for election, and that both he and the petitioner acted in good faith throughout.

In view of this fact, and of the fact that the case has turned mainly on the question of the correct interpretation of the rules, we direct that each party should bear its own costs.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3962J.—The 24th June 1922.—In supersession of all previous orders on the subject, the following rules made by the Governor in Council under Rule 9, Order XXVI, Schedule I, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, relating to the issue of commissions to qualified pleaders, are published for general information:—

Rules regarding the issue of commissions to qualified pleaders.

Issue of Commissions.

1. When a commission issued by a Civil Court, under Rule 9, Order XXVI, Schedule I of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is of such a nature as to require that the person executing it should have some knowledge of surveying, it should ordinarily be issued only to a person who holds a certificate of proficiency in surveying granted in accordance with these rules, or the rules promulgated with Government resolutions No. 2047J.—D., dated the 9th October 1901, and No. 2724J.—D., dated the 24th September 1904, which were published in the issues of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th October 1901 and 28th September 1904, respectively, provided that a Civil Court is not precluded from issuing a commission to salaried amils in districts in which they still exist.

2. Certificates of proficiency in surveying will be granted to pleaders desirous of qualifying themselves for execution of commissions under Rule 9, Order XXVI, Schedule I of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, on their passing the examination held annually for the purpose at the places mentioned in Rule 6 below.

Constitution and functions of the Examination Board.

3. The examination will be conducted by an Examination Board which will be composed as follows:—

- | | |
|--|------------|
| (1) A High Court Judge to be nominated by the High Court | President. |
| (2) A District Judge to be nominated by the High Court | |
| (3) The Principal of the Bengal Engineering College (Secretary) | |
| (4) Director of Surveys, Bengal | |
| (5) Ditto, Assam | |
| (6) The Principal of the Ashanulla School of Engineering, Dacca | Members. |
| (7) The Principal of the Bihar School of Engineering (Joint Secretary) | |
| (8) Director of Land Records and Surveys, Bihar and Orissa | |

4. Certificates issued to candidates attached to Courts in Bengal and Assam will be signed by the Secretary.

Certificates issued to candidates attached to Courts in Bihar and Orissa will be signed by the Joint Secretary.

5. The Board will, through their Secretary and Joint Secretary, arrange to conduct the examination, to appoint examiners and receive their reports, to issue instructions to the candidates, to record marks and announce results, to receive examination fees, and to pay the examiners and contingent expenses. The Board will also determine the scale of remuneration to be given to the examiners, in consultation with the Government of Bengal and the Government of Bihar and Orissa.

Rules for the Examination of Pleaders for Certificates of Proficiency in Surveying.

6. An examination for these certificates will be held once annually in the month of February, or at such time as may be notified, at the following centres.—

The Bengal Engineering College	... In Bengal, for Bengal and Assam candidates.
Dacca Engineering College	... Ditto.
Patna Engineering College	... In Bihar and Orissa.

7. Candidates practising in courts situated in the various districts of Bengal will be examined at the place enumerated below:—

Candidates practising in the Burdwan, Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions at the Bengal Engineering College, candidates practising in the Patna, Tirhut, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions at Bankipur.

Candidates practising in Courts in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions and in Assam will be examined at Dacca.

8. The maximum number of names that will be registered for the examination is 20 each at the centres at the Bengal Engineering College, Dacca and Bankipur.

9. In the event of more than 20 or less than 5 names being registered for examination at any one centre, the Secretary will have power to direct candidates to proceed for examination to one of the other centres, provided that this does not increase the number appearing at that centre to more than 20.

10. In the event of more candidates than provided for in Rule 8 being registered for examination in any year, the number admitted to the Bengal Engineering College, Dacca or Bankipur centres may be increased for that year. Should the number of candidates for examination at either of these centres be too great (in the opinion of the officer controlling the examination) to be examined at one time, he may arrange for two separate examinations in the field tests.* All candidates must appear at the same paper examination.

11. The registration of candidates for the examination will be conducted by the Secretary of the Examination Board, in the case of candidates practising in Bengal and by the Joint Secretary in the case of those practising in Bihar and Orissa.

12. No candidate will be admitted to the examination unless he has been enrolled as a pleader, and—

- (i) has obtained credit for attendance at the special course of instruction not less than one year and more than four years previous to the date of the examination, or
- (ii) has been registered for admission to the Intermediate Engineering Examination of the Calcutta University, or
- (iii) has passed the Sub-Overseer Examination, or
- (iv) has obtained the Surveyor's certificate of one of the Government Survey Schools, or
- (v) be specially exempted from the operation of this rule by the Board controlling the examination.

13. No candidate will be admitted to the examination more than three times.

14. Candidates for admission to the practical examination shall, after they have had their applications on the prescribed form countersigned by the District Judge, forward them to the Secretary or Joint-Secretary of the Examination Board so as to reach his office on such date in January as may be fixed annually by the Secretary and notified in two issues of the Gazette during the preceding month. Each application must be accompanied by a receipt from the local treasury certifying that the examination fee of Rs. 50 has been paid into the treasury; unless such receipt be received, the candidate's name will not be registered.

* The reason why it is not possible to hold a second examination at the other centres (vide Rule 10) is that they have not so large a number of teachers, and the holding of the examination necessitates the closing of the school while it is proceeding.

15. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate will be required to pass the examination in every test, and will not be exempted from a test on the ground that he satisfied the examiner in it previously.

16. No certificates of partial success will be issued.

17. The examination will comprise the following tests:—

- I.—A paper on practical surveying (three hours).
- *II.—A practical test in chain surveying, during which the candidate's knowledge of the use of a prismatic compass will be tested.
- III.—A practical test in plane tabling.
- IV.—A practical test in levelling.
- V.—An oral and practical test in the adjustment and care of surveying instruments.
- VI.—Plotting and calculations in connection with the work done in the field.

Tests Nos. II, III and LV will be such as can be completed by the candidate within four hours.

Rules as to special course of Practical instruction.

This special course in itself is of little use as a training in surveying. It is only intended as a preliminary instruction; the real training depends on the work done in the field during the year's interval between the course and the examination.

18. Classes will be arranged at the Bengal Engineering College, the Bihar School of Engineering, Bankipore; and the Dacca School of Engineering, for six weeks in the months of January and February each year. The course will consist of four hours' field work and two hours' class work daily.

19. The heads of these institutions will fix the exact dates in each season, and the sites of training, and inform the candidates after the candidates are allotted under Rule 29.

20. The classes will be held under canvas, and the necessary tents for this purpose will be provided by Government.

21. A separate instructor for each class approved by the Board will be appointed by the head of each institution for eight weeks in each season.

22. Attendance will not be marked any day unless the pleader attends for the full working hours, and if a pleader does not work satisfactorily, he will be marked as absent.

23. The instructor shall keep a register of attendance. To obtain credit for attendance at this special course of instruction a candidate must have been entered according to Rule 22 as having attended at least 80 per cent. of the full number of working days, and this attendance must be so distributed that the Board is satisfied that none of the subjects taught has been neglected. He shall also submit maps and sections of all field work to the satisfaction of the instructor.

24. The teacher of the class will not be permitted to give private certificates for this course.

25. A statement showing the total attendance of each pleader will be prepared by the Teacher in charge and forwarded through the Controlling Officer to the Secretary in the case of centres in Bengal, to the Joint Secretary in the case of centres in Bihar and Orissa.

26. The instructor will arrange for tents, coolies and instruments under the supervision of the head of the institutions concerned.

27. The fee for the course will be Rs. 100 payable in advance.

28. Any candidate who desires to undergo the course of training must apply to the Secretary or Joint Secretary of the Examination Board not later than such date in November as may be fixed annually by the Secretary and notified in the first two issues of the Gazette during that month. The application must be endorsed by the District Judge. It should state the centre which the candidate wishes to join, i.e., B. E. College, Bankipore, or Dacca, and should be accompanied by a remittance for the amount of the fee prescribed for the course.

* If in the candidate's opinion the test area fixed for Test No. I cannot be done by means of a chain survey, he may use the method of prismatic compass surveying, justifying by a note in his field-book his rejection of the former method.

29. The Secretary and Joint Secretary will allot candidates, consulting their wishes as far as possible; giving not more than 24 and not less than 8 to a class. If the number of candidates exceeds 72, he may arrange a second course at one centre. He will then inform the heads of the institutions as to the numbers in each of the classes, and the candidates as to the centres which they should attend.

30. Pleaders are expected to make their own arrangements for residence at the respective centres to which they are allotted.

31. The following is the syllabus of instruction:—

(a) Practical Work.

2 weeks on chain surveying;
1 week on prismatic compass;

2 weeks on plane tabling; and
1 week on levelling.

(b) Class Work.

Use of mathematical instruments.
Construction on scales.
Mensuration of areas.
Plotting.

Variation of compass.
Preparation of field-books from maps.
